

Jennifer Roberts

Jennifer is a revenue agent for the Small Business/Self-Employed Division at the Internal Revenue Service. Jennifer earned her bachelor's degree from University of Washington Business School and is a licensed CPA. Before joining the IRS, Jennifer was an accountant, tax preparer and representative for small businesses for over ten years with her family's accounting practice in Bellevue.

Jennifer has learned a lot of information since joining the IRS that she would have found helpful as a tax preparer and representative. Jennifer will review the audit process with you and provide tips on what you can do to make each audit go as smoothly as possible for you and your clients.
